

Testimonial Letter

My Dad had dirty books everywhere. All Dad would say was, "don't tell your mom". I continued looking at dirty books into adulthood. When I got married, my wife had a problem with it. I said, "What's the big deal?" However, she gave me the cold shoulder. Her problem I thought.

As men we never really discussed it. Occasionally saying, hey so and so movie star is in Playboy. Looking at Playboy was considered cool. These are adult females so what's the harm? Oh! Men never bought Playboy for the articles.

After accepting Christ as my Saviour, I began to rid myself of habits that were unattractive to the Lord. Easy to do in most cases, stop cursing, smoking, etc... but when it came to porn, there was a problem. It was a part of me now and trying as I did, I would always seem to slip up and look at dirty books. Now the internet had porn at my fingertips. Struggle and struggle, slip and slip. I hated myself and I was tired of asking God to forgive me, especially if I was lying to Him; not intentionally, but it became that way.

A friend of mine told me about Pure Freedom Ministry. A group designed to help men struggling with porn and we could remain anonymous. After about 6 months, I called Terry, the man who founded the ministry. There I found men of all ages that struggled with porn like me and as a group we hold each other accountable. Now not looking at porn is part of my life, thanks to the support of this ministry. I also have a grateful wife. I look at myself differently now. God will make an escape for you if you are serious about cleaning your life up. -- 1st Corinthians 10:13.
